Judge's Salary Raised At Last

The raise of County Judge Carroll Brown from $6,000 a year to $10,200 became official Monday with the final passage of a resolution by Randall County commissioners court to effect it.

This is the third time a motion alluding to the raise has been passed by the court. On previous occasions, Commissioner Clarence Beckman has merely abstained from voting. This week he voted no for a 3-1 decision with Commissioners Bill Butler, Glenn Dowlen and B.R. Jones voting for the measure.

Following is the text of the motion introduced Monday by Commissioner Butler:

"Having complied with all regulations in reference to increasing the salary of the county judge in the motion of April 15, 1968, which required notice to be in the newspaper for two consecutive weeks beginning April 18, 1968, I hereby make a motion to raise the salary of the county judge effective May 1, 1968 to $10,200."

The judge draws $2,580 a year for being county school superintendent placing his total salary at $12,780 annually.

In other business, the court certified seven persons to assist in counting votes in Saturday's primaries. The votes, cast on punch-card voting machines, will be counted by computers at Killgore Research Center.

Certified to assist in the counting are Durwood Henderson, Don Sparks, Blakely Ferguson and Pat Kenshaw of the center and Bruce Martin, George Maddox and Jack Zimmerman of Datamedia Corporation, the firm supplying the voting machines for the primary

Canyon Is Named Blue Ribbon City

The City of Canyon has been designated as a Blue Ribbon City by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to Paul Davis, co-chairman of the local project.

The award program, for all incorporated cities up to 12,000 population, was to establish a series of achievement goals and standards and fulfill them.

Presentation of the award will be made Tuesday at the 50th annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Odessa. The awards ceremony is scheduled for 9 a.m. at the Inn of the Golden West, said Davis who was co-chairman on the project with Joe Gidden.

The new program is part of a Small Town Economic Progress (STEP) project recommended by the WT Chamber in its report entitled "The Small Community in West Texas".

The Canyon entry of six areas of accomplishment was validated by experts in each category. Those categories included education, beautification, industrial development, local government, tourist development, leadership and parks

Racism Discussed

Griffin Indicts White America

BY WAYNE BOARD

The more Americans arm themselves in times of racial disorders, the more they are forced to arm, a nationally known author said Monday on the West Texas State University campus.

John Howard Griffin, author of "Black Like Me," told an audience of about 700 that if Americans "play black against white" only the racists will be satisfied.

Griffin, whose visit to WTSU was sponsored by the local Campus Christian Community organization, deplored the recent rioting in the streets--rioting he contends perhaps stems from white men shooting into crowds of Negroes. The Campus Christian Community is made up of Methodist, Lutheran, Catholic, Presbyterian, Christian and Episcopal Church representatives.

Griffin said Americans need a national wisdom that would deplore "shoot to kill" orders by local police in matters of suspected arsonists or looters. A Negro man could be killed, he explained, just because he was lighting a cigarette.

Noting the Negroes in the United States were afraid of genocide, Griffin declared that "violence will be in the form of self-defense".

Many of the riots which have occurred in the past year have been caused by white racists bent on causing an uprising, he said. These racists are forcing Negroes into what Griffin described as a "strike back".

The recently published Kerner Commission report, Griffin declared, shows a pattern concerning race riots. The pattern is that officials in one city will receive a telephone call that riots have broken out in a nearby city. This pattern was followed before the killing of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King, he said.

"The white residents in the city then become afraid and arm themselves against the Negroes," he went on.

Someone then "shoots into a crowd" and the Negroes arm themselves with rocks and sticks against the whites, he stated.

The phone calls are usually made by racists who have planned to create violence, Griffin declared.

Griffin, through a process utilizing internal medications and complexion touch-ups with iodine, changed the color of his skin from white to black in

Rabid Skunk Bites Randall Farm Dog

A rabid skunk was killed Friday in the Umbarger community, according to Dr. Joe Markham, veterinarian here in Canyon.

The skunk was shot on the Ernest Barnett farm 2 miles south of Buffalo Lake by Himler Harrison, a farm employe.

Mrs. Harrison said her husband shot the skunk as it attacked the family dog just outside the Harrison yard. Harrison called Dr. Markham who instructed him to bring the carcass to the veterinarian clinic here.

Dr. Markham prepared the animal's head and sent it to the State Health Department laboratory in Austin. Laboratory officals informed Dr. Markham Monday afternoon that the head had shown rabies positive.

The Harrison dog was bitten by the rabid skunk.

Dr. Markham immediately alerted County Health Officer Dr. Dudley Moore and news media.

Dr. Markham warned residents to be wary of any animals which act strangely.

"If it is a wild animal shoot it through the body and get in touch with me," he instructed. He said animals should not be shot through the head as this sometimes makes it impossible to discover rabies virus.

The veterinarian had a special warning for people living in the vicinity of the Barnett farm. "We don't know how many animals that rabid skunk had bitten," he said.

The dog which was bitten by by the rabid skunk has been confined for observation.

Storm Sewer Bids Called

Bids for 2,900 feet of storm sewer drainage line, to be used here this summer, will be opened by City of Canyon officials at 2 p.m. May 10 in the City Hall Annex.

The bids will be for furnishing of pipe, labor, material and equipment, and performing all work required for laying the 36" concrete storm sewer.

Canyon voters approved $200,000 in bonds April 2 for storm sewer drainage and street improvements. About $37,000 of the $200,000 was estimated as the cost of material and labor for laying the

LL Needs Officials

Umpires are badly needed for the Little League summer baseball season, according to Donald Day, chief official for the league.

Anyone interested in assisting the Little League program in this capacity may contact Day at OL5-3796 or OL5-5401

Rabies Shots Rates Reduced

Rabies shots will be administered Friday and Sat-Saturday at Markham Veterinary Clinic at a reduced rate of $3 instead of the regular $4.

All pet owning families are urged to have their animals vaccinated as the rabies shots, when administered, are effective only for one year. All pets should be immunized each year against the transferrable disease of rabies.

The clinic will be open Friday and Saturday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. For expediency, Dr. Markham urges that all animals be on a leash or in a protective container. Carrier containers for cats are available at the clinic.

Two Counties Use

New Voting Machines

Randall County will be one of two in the State of Texas to use the new "punchcard-type" voting machines here in Democratic and Republican party primary election Saturday.

The new Datamedia system, which was approved on a tentative basis earlier this year by county commissioners, involves the use of standard data-processing cards in which the voter punches holes. After the polls close, the ballot cards are processed through an electronic computer which tabulates them at a rapid rate.

Also using the new device Saturday will be Bee County, Texas.

Randall County Clerk Leroy Hutton, who has been conducting classes for election officials prior to the Saturday primary, said although the electronic computer could tabulate the votes at the rate of 1,000 cards per minute, the computers must first print-back each of the twenty precincts.

The system, called Vote-A-Corder and manufactured in Binghamton, N.Y., is simple to operate, stressed E. Joseph Parry, executive vice president of Datamedia Corporation.

To vote in the Vote-A-Croder system, the voter takes a ballot card and an envelope from the polls, goes to a booth and inserts the card in the machine, with the large holes at the top of the card fitted over posts on the machine.

A ballot booklet will already be on the machine, and the card fits into the machine so that a narrow strip of it shows to the right of the candidate's name.

The voter takes a stylus from the machine and punches a hole to the right of an arrow from the name of the candidate of his choice.

When the voter has completed the ballot booklet, he removes the card and places it in an envelope, which has lines on the inside flap for write-in candidates. and card to an election official, who tears off the stub at the top of the card. The voter then drops his card and envelope into the sealed ballot box.

After the polls close Saturday, the ballot boxes will be taken to the Killgore Research Center at West Texas State University, where the cards will be processed through the computer.

Voters must vote where they live, Hutton said, and everyone who plans to cast a ballot must be listed on the voter registration list.

Anyone who has lived in the county less than six months must vost an absentee ballot at the clerk's office.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

I listened with interest, almost spellbound, Monday night while John Howard Griffin talked about the problems of the Negro American. Griffin, who artificailly pigmented his skin and traveled the South as a Negro, some 10 years ago wrote a book, "Black Like Me", describing his experiences.

There is no doubt that he knows intimately some of the problems of the black man. He painted a grim picture of discrimination in America.

However, even as Griffin deplored racism, his address itself became a study in racism . . . racism directed at white America.

The first portion of his talk was moving. He made some strong points but as the noted author went deeper into his speech, it became obvious that he would see no sincere good in the American white man.

As the white community has tended to stereotype the Negro, just so John Howard Griffin stereotyped the white man in his talk Monday night.

He laid no fault at the door of the black man but heaped blame for looting and riots at the door of the white man. Indeed, he made it appear that it was almost a duty for the black man to run amuck.

No mention was made of the improvement of the black man's lot over the past score of years in America.

He might have mentioned the efforts of the white community of Greenville, Miss., which has tried so hard to establish a technical training school for indigent, jobless Negroes.

He might have mentioned the improvement of the black man's lot right here in Canyon. A dozen years ago there were no black students at West Texas State University. Now the doors of WTSU are open to all.

Membership in almost all Canyon churches is open to anyone. Almost a score of Negro students are members of Canyon First Baptist Church. Canyon's restaurants and business places are open to everyone.

If Griffin is indeed sincere, why didn't he make note of a few of these things to the credit of the white community?

I have mentioned only a few, but I could recite hundreds of cases in which white America has reached out a hand to the struggling minorities who have sought to find their destinies in this land of ours.

My own great grandfather left a Southern home to which he could never return and fought for the liberty of the black man. As a testament of his devotion to the cause of Abe Lincoln and the Union, he left a leg at Shiloh.

John Howard Griffin neglected to mention that the Emancipation Proclamation was penned in white man's blood.

Most responsible white men realize the black man has been subjected to discrimination, not just in the South or in the United States but over most of the world. Men of goodwill everywhere want to see the black man (all men for that matter) better themselves. Most of us are willing to help in any reasonable way we can.

Constant haranguing of the black man, telling him how mistreated he is, how brutish the white man is will help neither the black man nor the white man. Reasonable Negroes know that the white man must help if the black man in America is to realize his ambitions.

I am afraid the white man will not be persuaded to help much if he is constantly accused of duplicity and brutishness.

The Negro wants acceptance from the white man more than he wants anything else. No amount of legislation will ever give him that acceptance. It must come from the heart and you do not open a man's heart by telling him he is an insincere, unfeeling brute.

This was the indictment levelled against the white community by John Howard Griffin Monday night. In my opinion, such talk tends only to polarize the two races, move them away from becoming one nation and closer to the brink of fratricide --a tragedy this country cannot survive.

Letters To Editor

To the Editor:

The race track backers would like to have us thinking that the churches are the only ones opposed to race track gambling. Just as strongly against it are retail merchants, banks, insurance companies, chambers of commerce, and law enforcement agencies--and PARENTS!

On all counts, moral or economic, there is little reasoning or common sense that can be advanced for throwing our money away at the tracks. It goes to the professional gamblers--away from families, away from community business, and away from our state.

I don't think parents want their children exposed to the race track followers. Let's vote against it on May 4th.

Sincerely,
G. W. Morrison

To the Editor--

Texas is wonderful state, and we most all enjoy living here. Its taxes are reasonable when compared to other states. There is a big lie treatment being given this business of letting the horse race gamblers pay our taxes. They may pay some, but the news columns are filled every week with instances where gamblers are indicted for tax evasion of one kind or another. It doesn't seem like taxes will be reduced by a donor whose payment must be so rigidly enforced as to cause extra police and tax collection agencies to be formed to do the job. Let's defeat race track gambling.

John L. Hammond

Buying? Selling? Use the classified advertising pages of The Canyon News. Telephone OL5-2141.

To the Editor--

I've never thought much about the problems of race track gambling until lately. Now I am married and a future parent. My wife and I are thinking a lot about race track gambling now, and want it defeated. Our children will face enough problems and temptations in this world without the lure and excitement of race tracks in Texas.

Do we want Texas to become another breeding ground for such "thoroughbreds" as Capone, Luciano, -- and Texas' own Benny Binion, who was with us when we had race track gambling in the 30's?

Legalized race track gambling in Texas would bring in some tourists (Benny Binion would doubtless come back!) -- but would they be the sort you would want your children to come in contact with?

Let's vote against this race track business on May 4.

Sincerely,
Don Anthis

Babe Ruthers To Have Meet

A get-acquainted session for parents and coaches of Babe Ruth League ballplayers will be held Tuesday night.

The meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the First Methodist Church of Canyon.

Showers Hit Canyon

Although the .66 inches of rain that fell here Sunday will aid the dryland wheat farmer, much of the crop has already been lost due to lack of moisture earlier this year, said Randall County Agent John Brazzil.

"We're not overly optimistic that the rain made us a million dollars," Brazzil said, "but anytime we get this much we can count on benefits."

He said the dryland crop had been damaged between the recent rain and the moisture that fell here about 90 days ago. Many cattle raisers, he noted, had begun to graze their dryland wheat acreage before the rain Sunday.

While the rains will not overcome early damage due to lack of moisture, Brazzil said it would act as a "holding action".

As for irrigated wheat, Brazzil said it "looks good" and sustained no damage from light frost or freeze.

Ranges and pastures are beginning to green somewhat, but are progressing slowly due to the lack of a moisture reserve.

Grain sorghum and cotton, which will be planted in late May, will not appreciably be effected by the recent moisture.

Cotton John Award Given At Banquet

The first "Cotton John" Scholarship Fund awards were presented Monday at the annual West Texas State University Agriculture Awards and Recognition banquet sponsored by the Block and Bridle Club.

The two students receiving the award, which includes a $300 scholarship next fall, were Donald Lane Williams, White Deer junior; and David Nafzger, Hereford senior. The scholarship program was established in memory of the late Garland (Cotton John) Smith, farm and ranch editor for KGNC radio and television in Amarillo for many years.

Williams, who has a 2.5 grade average, is a member of Block and Bridle Club and the Mary E. Hudspeth Honor Society.

Also a member of Block and Bridle, Nafzger is active in Alpha Chi, honor society; WTSU Concert Band, Beta Beta Beta, biology society; and was formerly on the WTSU Junior Livestock Judging Team.

Art Bralley, vice president of Amarillo's American National Bank, was awarded a National Block and Bridle Honorary membership at the banquet. He was recognized for his longtime service to agriculture and also for his assistance to the WTSU agriculture department.

He is a former agricultural agent for Potter County and has been involved in agricultural work with the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo and in farm financing.

D. B. Nelson, executive vice president of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, was the recipient of a Block and Bridle membership. He is a former agricultural agent in Oklahoma and former marketing specialist with the Texas A&M Extension Service.

The junior and senior livestock judging team awards, which are sponsored by the West Texas Ex-Student Association, were also presented.

The outstanding senior awards were presented in agriculture-business to Mike Hudson, Clovis, N. M.; animal science to Sam Wells, Amarillo, and John Nishimuta, Hereford; and plant science to James Crownover, Claude, and Kenneth Ferguson, McCaulley.

The merit trophy award, presented by the Block and Bridle Club for outstanding service to the organization, was presented to John Hughes of Canyon.

Speaker for the annual affair was Dr. W. T. Berry, Jr., executive secretary of the American Hereford Association.

Revisions Suggested

Suggested revisions for a zoning map to be used by the City of Canyon were suggested last week by the Zoning and City Commissions.

The two governmental agencies, meeting with Marvin Springer, urban planning consultant of Dallas, discussed the revisions and changes for the zoning standards and map to be included in a master plan for Canyon.

Springer, who has been working with the standards, map and proposed subdivision regulations for more than a year, said he would meet again with the groups the latter part of May.

After the zoning map and regulations have received approval, a public hearing must be held concerning the changes.

Junior High Building Vote May 18

If Canyon voters approve a $1,350,000 bond issue, a new junior high school building will be erected on the back of the campus now occupied by the junior high school.

The building should be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the school term in 1969. Voters will decide on the issue May 18.

Following is the text of a statement made this week by School Supt. Jerry Jacobs concerning the bond issue and proposed new buildings.

The members of the Canyon school board endeavors to provide the quality of educational program that the people of this school district expect. Proper classroom sizes as well as proper lighting, accoustics, temperature and the many other features of modern school buildings are essential in providing the best educational environment.

To further achieve this goal, the Canyon school board had unanimously endorsed the proposed $1,350,000 bond issue to construct a new junior high school and to aircondition Rex Reeves Elementary School. The modern school plant will create a much better climate in which to teach and in which to be taught.

The new junior high school will be located on the same campus and will probably be constructed behind the present buildings. The present buildings will continue to be used until the new building is completed. After the new structure is occupied, the old buildings will be torn down and continue to be used with the new parking facilities and school bus loading areas will be constructed where the buildings now stand.

The present gymnasium on the north side of the music and indus[illegible]ilding will building. Some remodeling will be planned for these two remaining buildings.

The new junior high school will accomodate approximately 1,000 students which will allow for expansion for future years. At the present time 686 students attend the junior high school while 10 years ago only 300 students were in junior high school here. If the same growth rate continues, the expected enrollment of 1,000 students could be reached by 1974 or 1975.

Margaret Harper To White House Affair

Mrs. Margaret Harper of Canyon will have lunch today, Thursday, at the White House in Washinton, D. C. with Mrs. Lyndon Johnson.

Mrs. Harper, former president of the "TEXAS" - sponsoring Panhandle Heritage Foundation, said the luncheon is the fourth in a series of "Women Doers".

Theme for a panel discussion following the luncheon will be "Rediscovering America".

Mrs. Harper first received a telegram from Mrs. Johnson's social secretary asking that she attend the luncheon. An engraved invitation followed after Mrs. Harper indicated she would attend the affair.

Mrs. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nugent attended a performance in late July last year of "TEXAS" as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Batson of Amarillo. Mrs. Nugent is the former Luci Baines Johnson, daughter of the President and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Harper was instrumental in forming the foundation which first sponsored "Thundering Sounds of the West" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park in 1965.

She is the wife of Dr. Ples Harper.

Historical Group Sets Lunch Here

Randall County Historical Survey committee will have an awards luncheon next Wednesday at the home of chairman, Mrs. Terry C. Martin.

The luncheon, which begins at 12 noon, will be followed by a business session at 1 p.m. where the county judge Carroll Brown will present awards from Governor John Connally to various local menbers.

Special guests for the luncheon and program will be members of the Carson County Historical Survey Committee. The visiting committee will discuss progress and achievements made in Carson County toward depicting and preserving historical points under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Randall, chairman CCHSC.

Parole Opposed

Randall County Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston and George Dowlen, criminal district attorney, both said Wednesday they would oppose the parole of Clarence Edward Young, 37, from the Texas State Penitentiary.

Young, who was convicted in March 1956 of the bayonet murder of Robert Boyd Chapman, was sentenced to the penitentiary on a life sentence.

"My opinion was when he went down there I didn't think he should be turned out unless they could prove he had changed," Johnston said.

Dowlen said he would take the recommendation of the sheriff in making the decision as he was not criminal district attorney at the time of the incident.

The body of Chapman was found with 14 stab wounds in it at a roadside park south of Canyon.

order to live for a time with Negroes and learn their problems. "Black Like Me" is the story of his experiences.

"Every oppressed minority has, I suppose, learned to wait," Griffin declared, explaining that Negroes pay taxes and fight for their country but in some sections of the country cannot vote or have the rights to higher education.

Griffin noted that many "good whites" have respect for the Negro but always use the word "but" when referring to further relationships with the colored man.

" 'I have the greatest respect for the Negro,' " Griffin said a white man told him, " 'but do you think the Negro is ready for his rights?' "

Referring to "earning" rights, Griffin said they were "rights which no white man has to 'earn' ". The statement drew light applause from the audience, about 40 of whom were Negroes.

When the Negro individual feels he has been deprived of his rights, he sits and waits. White people describe this outward appearance as "apathy".

Even colored men with doctorates in many parts of the South must still travel with sandwiches and thermos because of discrimination in eating places, Griffin said.

When Griffin made the transformation from white man to black man, he said he realized in less than an hour some of the problems the Negro was experiencing. He added that seeking work slightly above that of a laborer proved to be in vain, noting that the only jobs he was able to get were those of a shoe shine boy or someone to unload trucks.

"All I wanted them to do was to ask me a question," Griffin said of the prospective employers--employers, he contends, who refused him work only because of his skin color.

Grifffin said he was afraid he could not pass for a Negro because "I didn't know how to talk 'Negro' " and because of his bone structure. The author said he found there were as many sounds and bone structures in the Negro as in the white race.

The author recalled being forced to go until 8:30 at night in Alabama before finding a restaurant that would serve a Negro and standing at the doors of churches of many demoninations although he was allowed to enter few of them.

"As a white man, one particular girl in a southern drug store treated me very well," he said.

Griffin said he later returned to the drug store as a Negro and was not recognized.

"I told the same girl that I was a diabetic and asked where I might get a drink of water," he continued.

Ignoring a drinking fountain less than three feet away, the girl began giving him directions where he "might" find a place to get water.

"She gave me directions to a drinking fountain 17 blocks away. She meant nothing by it--that was simply the custom," he declared.

"Within thirty minutes I realized what I thought I knew as a white Southerner would not touch the reality of what I was experiencing," he said of his experiences into the world of the Negro.

The lecturer received a standing ovation at the conclusion of his talk of some 1 1/2 hours duration.

Griffin, who was educated in France, returned to the United States to serve in the Air Force. Twice wounded, he lost most of his sight as the result of brain damage.

Later completely blind, he returned to Mansfield, Tex., to attend school and learn to read braille. As a means of livelihood Griffin began breeding registered livestock and writing.

His first novel, "The Devil Rides Outside", was published in 1952. Since his sight was restored, Griffin has written a book about Texas, served as a senior editor of "Ramparts" magazine and written "Black Like Me".

He has also written "Nuni", the story of a civilian American who was cast away among primitive tribesmen.

A question and answer session followed Griffin's lecture.

"I told them it was alright," McDonald said, "because it would give both sides a chance to voice their opinions."

O'Neal said the Canyon schools would be in competition with Amarillo College, West Texas State University and the high schools in Amarillo with the winner receiving a trophy. The school with the highest number of signers according to enrollment would win the trophy.

The announcer said he hoped to get 10,000 on the petition which will be forwarded to President Johnson.

The anti-war petition stated: "We feel that the American government is gravely mistaken in its policies in Vietnam. Although proud to be Americans, we cannot support the American war effort there."

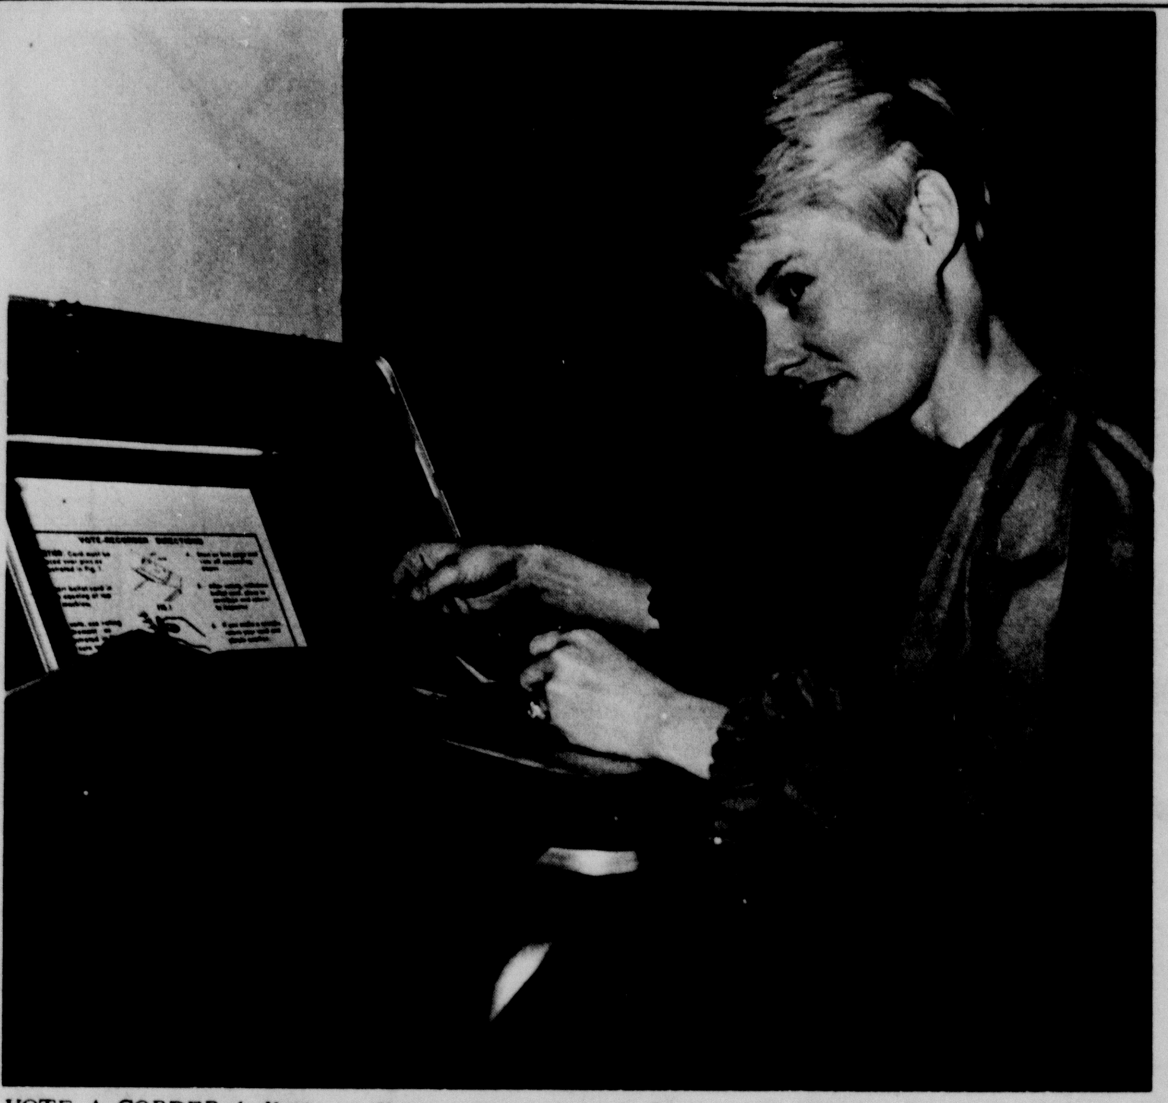
The court authorized the advertising for some paving repairs in Precinct 1, accepted a road dedication in Lawrence Park Development in North Randall County and accepted a road dedication submitted by Eddie Conner.

Members of the court heard a report that several county employes want to drop out of the county retirement fund plan under which an employe puts 7 percent of his paycheck into the fund and has the amount matched by the county.

Commissioners authorized the advertising for bids for several items including two 6,000-gallon tanks for the county barn belonging to Precincts 2 and 4, advertising for two pumps for the barn, advertising for bids on 25,000 voter registration forms for the tax assessor-collector and the advertising for bids for a new car for the sheriff's department.

The court also approved the county audit.



VOTE-A-CORDER balloting will be the order of the day Saturday as Randall County residents go to the polls for Democratic and Republican primaries. Demonstrating use of the machine, which is manufactured by Datamedia Corporation of Binghamton, N. Y., is Sandy Daves, an employee in the Randall County Courthouse. The machines were approved on a tentative basis by county commissioners earlier this year for the primaries Saturday.

and recreation. Qualification scores varied according to the population of each city entered in the competition.

Canyon will receive an engraved plaque for inside display and a road sign for erection on the highway designating the city as a Blue Ribbon City.

Plans call for starting at 24th St. and Fifth Avenue and going east and south to 28th St. and Seventh Avenue.

This would tie the new 36" line to existing facilities, Mayor Paul Lindsey explained.

"Three or four years ago," he continued, "we put in a larger storm sewer anticipating another laternal storm sewer to tie in to it."

The existing line, he said, is not large enough to sufficiently handle flood waters. The existing facility is a 24" line.

Also approved in the April 2 election was $212,000 for sewer plant expansion and $26,000 for sanitation improvements.

Contracts for the street paving were approved last week.

Hobbs Art Displayed In Amarillo

An exhibition of recent works by Robert Hobbs, assistant professor of art at West Texas State University, went on display April 23 at the Washington Street Gallery in Amarillo.

The exhibit will be displayed through May 14. Works in the exhibit are primarily collages or icons devoted to symbols. An impressionistic technique is used by Hobbs in interpreting the metaphysical and poetic works of art.

Hobbs says that he has "sanctioned the use of numbers and letters as pictorial elements because although new in art, they are already soaked in humanity".

A native of Big Spring, Hobbs earned the BS degree at West Texas State University in Canyon. He earned the M.A. degree at Colorado State College in Greeley and is working on the Ed. D at Pennsylvania State University in University Park. He has taught four years in the public schools at Midland, served two years as an instructor of art at Odessa College and five years at WTSU. He has been an assistant professor of art at WT for one year and has been a graduate assistant at Pennsylvania State University for two years.

Along with other awards, Hobbs has won an award of merit in the watercolor division at the West Texas Fair in Abilene in 1966. His works have been included in group exhibits and in one-man art exhibitions at a number of points. His most recent one-man exhibition was at Pennsylvania State University, although he has had seven one-man shows at WTSU in addition to exhibits in Amarillo Center, Midland Pallett Club, Howard County Junior College, Borger County Library, Owens Gallery of Art in Amarillo, Odessa College, Midland County Library and others.

COOK OF THE WEEK

Shares Peanut Recipes

BY LORENA MILLER

Recipes using peanuts are shared with our readers this week by Mrs. Jack Warren of 2323 Fourteenth Avenue.

Mrs. Warren, the former Leeora Sutton, was raised at Arnett, Oklahoma where she graduated from high school. She received an associate in science from Amarillo Junior College and in 1951 married her husband, Jack.

Although her parents are deceased, Mrs. Warren has four sisters, Opal Freida of Indiana, Masine Davis of California, Letha Hamre of Arnett, Oklahoma and Amanda Walker of Enid, Oklahoma; and two brothers, Neil Sutton and Ross Sutton, both of California.

Her husband was from San Angelo. His mother, Mrs. Belva Warren, now lives in Amarillo as do a brother, J. B. Warren, and a sister, Mrs. Cleo Roe. His other two brothers are Wallace in California and Junior in Virginia.

The Warrens moved to Canyon in 1964. He is a boiler operator at the Veteran's Hospital in Amarillo and Mrs. Warren works as a parttime nurse at Neblett Memorial Hospital here.

The couple has five children including the oldest, Douglas, 14, who is in the ninth grade at Canyon Junior High School. JoBeth, 13, is a seventh grade student and is active in cadet scouting. Joyce Ann, 9, is in the third grade and Linda Sue, 7, is in the second grade. Both Joyce Ann and Linda Sue are Brownie Scouts and plan to begin accordian lessons while Douglas and JoBeth are learning to play the guitar. Youngest of the Warren's children is Beverly, age 3.

"Hunting and fishing are favorite sports for my husband," related Mrs. Warren. Her own hobbies, she related, are varied including backyard gardening, embroidery, needlepoint and cooking for her family.

Her favorite recipes are:

Coming Of Spring Given By Third Grades

"Spring Glow" was the program presented by third grade students of Mrs. Betty Meredith and Mrs. Anna Reed last Friday afternoon and evening at the all-purpose room of Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The program of music and dance was interpreted by Jack Frost (portrayed by Royal Brantley) and his frost elves who were attempting to hold back the coronation of spring. Spring was portrayed by Pam Woolsey.

As scenes of the play began the stage was accented with an ice cave and winter branches. In the final scene Spring is on her throne surrounded by spring trees in bloom. Assisting with direction were Mrs. Cortez Dowlen, music, and Mrs. Burton Davis.

Students participating as frost elves were Lynn Whitten, Mark Baker, Ricky James Holloway, Joe Coffman, Danny Fort, Billy Parks and Terry Wayne Houk.

The bluebirds were James Vaughan, Darren Simpkins, and Debbie Plummer. Appearing as flower maidens were Jeri Maness, Cindy Stork, Emma Bourgdorf, Jan Zook, Patti Lynn Guy and Teresa Bagwell.

PEOPLE HAD BOILS IN BIBLICAL TIMES

They are often mentioned in the Bible. A boil's redness, swelling, local "hotness," and great tenderness as a fluid-filled core develops, gives a picture of a typical infection. Boils are usually caused by a staphlococci variety of bacteria which remains confined to the area of their entry.

It is called a boil when on the skin's surface, an abscess when it involves deep tissues. A carbuncle is a cluster of boils and a felon is a special type of boil affecting the thick tissues of the pad of a fingertip. Never squeeze a boil or a pimple. This spreads the infection. Diabetics, or patients with vascular disease, hardening of arteries or Buerger's disease require immediate medical attention.

FFA President Talks At CHS

A bright future for agriculture was portrayed Tuesday afternoon by Danny Burns, Pitsburgh, Tex., as the state Future Farmers of America president paid an official visit to the Canyon High School FFA Chapter.

Burns pointed out that although farmers have dwindled to a mere 7 percent of the total population, people in agriculture and agricultural industries make up a whopping 40 percent.

"With this population explosion, there will be more and more mouths to feed and more and more backs to clothe," he declared saying the role of agriculture in the world will become more important as the years go by.

He discounted a suggestion that synthetics may someday replace agricultural products.

"A pill will never be as good as a good old beef steak," he asserted with feeling.

Burns told his listeners that plans are afoot on a national level to allow girls to enroll in FFA. Until now FFA has been strictly a male domain. The Canyon FFA Chapter recently expressed disapproval of admitting girls.

Burns said reapportionment may soon give Texas FFA a stronger voice in national councils. He pointed out that New York with 2,000 FFA members presently has two votes just like Texas with 35,000. He said reapportionment may soon give Texas six votes.

Burns was scheduled to visit the Happy FFA Chapter Tuesday afternoon after departing Canyon.

Northern Pike Stocked In Buffalo Lake Waters

About 8,000 fingerling Northern Pike were placed in the water at Buffalo Lake National Wildlife Refuge from the Fort Worth National Fish Hatchery Tuesday evening.

The project, said Jack Crabtree, is most unusual because the pike are difficult to rear and have cannibalistic tendencies. Crabtree is a fishery biologist with the inland fisheries division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

He said the fish were put in Buffalo Lake to contain and control the large amount of carp. During the past year, more than 1,200 pike from the Greenbelt Lake at Clarendon were placed in the Buffalo waters. Some of the pike, he explained, were 24 inches in length and weighed as much as four pounds.

The season on both Walleye and Northern pike is closed, he noted, and anyone catching either of the fish is asked to return it to the lake. The season will open when lake officials have had an opportunity to determine if the pike have reproduced.

Last week, about 100,000 small crappie and a few of the larger fish were transferred to Buffalo from the old Amarillo City lake, northwest of here. Crabtree said the action was necessary to keep the fish from dying and to enhance fishing at Buffalo.

Aiding in the projects, which are sponsored by Crabtree's organization and the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, were members from the Golden Spread Hunting and Fishing Club of Amarillo.

New Game In Debut At WTSU

A new kind of game makes its debut in the Student Union Building at 4 p.m. today, Thursday.

The game, called phono-shuffle, is based on the International Phonetic Alphabet, which is the key to the major languages of the world.

The first game here, in the SUB, will be in the Windsor Room.

A group of students in phonetics 352 has challenged anyone to compete. Dr. Zell SoRelle, associate professor of speech, said another team is being formed.

Kibitzers will be welcome, too, she said.

THE AREA OF TEXAS INCLUDED in the SEVENTH SUPREME JUDICIAL DISTRICT

TO THE RESIDENTS OF THE SEVENTH SUPREME JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

Thank you for the privilege of serving you for eleven years and four months on the Court of Civil Appeals.

For the sake of the Court from which I am retiring and for the good of the State of Texas, I earnestly solicit your votes for Jack Hazlewood because:

1. In my opinion, the judges on every appellate court, from the United States Supreme Court on down, should be first and foremost good lawyers. Jack Hazlewood is an outstanding lawyer.

2. Of six major scholastic honors possible for a student to win in the Texas University Law School, Jack Hazlewood won them all. Such a scholastic record is possible only by one with an outstanding legal mind and the willingness to work, two attributes needed on an appellate court.

3. Jack Hazlewood has had more than four times as much experience in the Court of Civil Appeals as both his opponents combined.

4. The most practical and effective training for an appellate court justice is trial and appellate practice, as a lawyer, against other strong lawyers. This is exactly the training Jack Hazlewood has had for more than fifteen years, and in it he has many times demonstrated his competence.

5. This is the exact same training five justices of the Supreme Court of Texas had before becoming members of that Court. None had judicial experience on the trial level. They are Justices Griffin, Walker, Greenhill, Steakley and Chief Justice Calvert.

6. In the official bar poll conducted by the State Bar of Texas among the lawyers and judges of the 46 counties of this district Jack Hazlewood received more votes than both his opponents combined. This poll indicates that the members of the legal profession also rank him number one.

Respectfully submitted,
Alton B. Chapman, Associate Justice,
Court of Civil Appeals

AN ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT TO THE CANYON NEWS, MAY 2, 1968

Improvements delivered as promised

Important Changes Shape Up at Ch. 7

John Tyler keeps his promises. As KVII-TV's general manager, he made five big ones in February. He hasn't reneged on a one.

"I said then, and I say again, that KVII-TV is going to be the No. 1 station for area viewers instead of the straggler it had been over the years," he promised. That makes six he has to keep. He's not doing badly on the first five. Look at the record.

Promise No. 1: "We will double our news staff and make it more mobile, providing the men with all the equipment they need to supply the kind of coverage viewers expect from a first-class news program."

Tyler described changes that have been made. "These guys are real pros at news," he said," and with the new equipment we've added, they will be even better prepared to give area viewers a professional presentation of the news."

'They' includes Channel 7 news director Tom Martin, anchor man Bob Izzard, and three photographer / reporters—Dick Caywood, C. J. Arendahl, and Joe Lutz. There are also stringers in all major Panhandle communities and towns to feed spot news and features to the KVII-TV news team.

Those four orange-and-yellow psychedelic Mustang fastbacks scooting throughout the Tri-State area certainly make the news staff more mobile—and more noticeable, too.

"Well, you can hardly miss them," Tyler observed dryly.

Each of the colorful Mustangs is equipped with six radio monitors tuned to law enforcement agencies in the area, enabling the newsmen to maintain two-way contact with the sheriff's department, city police and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Our photographers are now equipped with Canon Scoopic 16 movie cameras, said by the experts to be the fastest hand-operated movie camera in the world. It's the first 16-mm camera to incorporate a zoom lens and fully-automatic exposure control system. We can provide perfectly exposed pictures in record time, which means better visual reporting, faster," Tyler said.

Coupled with the new cameras is a $20,000 Jamieson high speed color film processor, the same processor used commercially by Eastman-Kodak. Most stations take about an hour or more to process color film for newscasts, but with KVII-TV's new processor, the photographer can go from dip to dry and have the film on the air within 20 minutes.

"This means that a story can break 15 minutes before any news program, and before the newscast is finished, we can have the filmed story on the air," Tyler added. "These improvements should really give momentum to what we've seen as a changing trend in news-viewing habits in the Tri-State area."

The station further strengthened news programming in the more specialized areas of agriculture and sports.

On April 1, Jack Tompkins, the area's leading farm editor, joined the station.

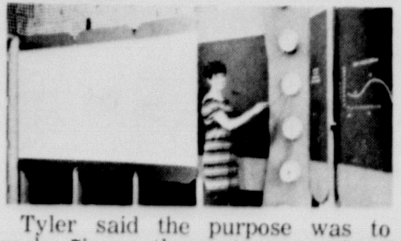
"Jack's knowledge of agriculture and his analysis of events in that field will certainly be an asset to farmers and ranchers in this area," Tyler said.

Sports fans have been seeing veteran broadcaster Jim Taylor on recent Saturday and Sunday nights. No relation of the famed football great of the same name, Taylor is still no stranger to the world of sports.

"Jim's an avid motorcycle racing fan. In fact, he's won a number of trophies in major racing events around the country." Current plans call for stepped-up coverage of local sporting events, plus notable items of interest to outdoorsmen.

Promise No. 2: "We will have a weather show like none other ever seen on the Plains."

Channel 7 commissioned a professional designer to make a study of the most successful weather presentations in larger cities. The result of this study is a new weather concept for the station. Constructed to offer more extensive illustration of the weather, the newly-designed set includes two national maps, a regional map and a blown-up local map for weathergirl Carol Kelley to work from.



Tyler said the purpose was to make 7's weathercasts more visual and easy to understand.

"We've started using pale blue maps, with colored chalks and inks to plot the fronts and cloud formations. Already in use in major metropolitan areas, this colorful approach to weather helps the viewer understand more of what is going on and what is happening around the nation and locally."

In addition, the station has acquired the Alden 18 Semifax weather map machine.

"We receive information twice daily from weather satellites, giving us information on cloud formations, winds aloft, fronts, and development of major storms. This data is transmitted to us immediately so we can keep our viewers constantly informed. Farmers and ranchers, especially, need to know what is happening so they can be prepared."

Promise No. 3: "We'll introduce some children's programming."

Tuggie (pronounced Toogie) is the personable host of KVII-TV's "Cartoons 'n Cornflakes."

"He's one of the most natural performers we've run across in many years of television," Tyler said. "He loves kids, and they love him. He fills the air with homey bits of philosophy in a language the kids understand. He's their buddy, chum, intimate friend. We couldn't have done better if we'd gotten Santa Claus himself!"

Promise No. 4: "We're going to sign on earlier and sign off later, and we'll start running a late late show on Friday and Saturday nights."

Tyler followed through, moving sign-on time up to 6:30 in the morning, and added the late late shows as he said he would. But he went one step further. Now night owl viewers can see a late late show every night Monday through Saturday! The weeknight presentation follows a midnight recap of late news with Tom Martin.

"On Saturdays," Tyler noted, "we begin a double feature at 10:45 p.m., finally signing off after 2 a.m. That's late enough for most anyone."

Promise No. 5: "We'll have more movies in color, and they'll be of more recent vintage than some on the air now."

Most stations reserve their prime movies for prime time. Not KVII-TV. "Eighty-five percent of our movies are now in color, and we're programming good movies ALL the time, not just during special periods," Tyler pointed out. "A good many stations are still showing movies produced in the 1940s. Ours, on the whole, were made after 1955. That's one promise I was determined to keep. I like good movies as much as everyone else."

Those were Tyler's five promises, but they were just openers for the changes already taking place at KVII-TV.

A lot of modern electronic equipment has been purchased within the past two months, and the engineers couldn't be happier. Bill Canady, the station's Director of Engineering, summed it up.

"We've got a new switcher, image enhancers, special microwave for better color transmission, two Ampex VR 2000-B videotape recorders (one equipped for animation, Disney-style), and several other devices to improve our picture." When asked to translate all that lingo into laymen's terms, Canady explained, "Well, the new switcher is designed to add special optical effects to our local productions. It's the first of its kind in the United States, and we're pleased to get it. The viewers will see the effect of it in more interesting visual presentations. You know the girl who walks under the bumper of a car? We'll be able to do things like that."

"The specially designed microwave system refines the color quality, and we've added what I call 'image enhancers' to the system to make the picture sharper. Reds look redder, blues bluer, plaids . . . you know. Videotape is the lifeline of program material (where would the 'instant replay' be without it?) and we've got the two best machines made."

"We've purchased or ordered all the latest electronic equipment available that has anything to do with picture quality. Our viewers can see the difference, because they tell us so."

Promises, promises, promises. When John Tyler makes one, he keeps it. The record proves it.

New KVII-TV service to farmers, ranchers

Tompkins Moves to New Spread: RFD 7

One thing vital to today's farmer and rancher is accurate information on the rapidly changing agronomic industry. Jack Tompkins, KVII-TV's new farm editor, provides it.

He's an expert in gleaning the facts of most value to the area's scientifically-oriented farmers and ranchers from the tremendous volume of material hitting the newsstands and coming via the post office daily.

Tompkins, a familiar face in agricultural circles throughout the state, is part of the New Look on Channel 7.

As the Panhandle's leading farm editor, Tompkins reports important agri-news on KVII-TV three times daily at 6:45 a.m., 12:15 p.m., and 10:25 p.m.

A Texas A&M graduate, Tompkins has been presented several of the state's major agricultural awards, such as the Outstanding Service to Conservation Award from the Fort Worth Press, Distinguished Service Award from the Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association of Texas, Man of the Year in Agriculture Award from the state's county agents, the Texas Production Credit Association Press Award and the Federal Land Bank Association's 50th Anniversary Commemorative Medal for Distinguished Service to Agriculture.

He's been honored by the 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America chapters in Oklahoma and Texas. He also has an honorary membership in the National Block and Bridle Club, presented to him by the West Texas State University Chapter.

These honors and awards were hard-earned. His expertise in analyzing, interpreting, and reporting farm and ranch news has won him a place of distinction among farm broadcasters.

He was farm director for KCMC-TV, Texarkana, Tex., for three years. He moved to Amarillo in 1961 as farm director for KFDA-TV, and resigned in 1964 to organize Farm and Ranch News, Inc., a radio and television farm program production company. His company is currently producing the three farm shows daily exclusively on KVII-TV.

In addition to the farm programs, he will produce a 30-minute Panhandle Sportsman Show to be seen each Saturday at 5:30 p.m. The program will explore the many means of outdoor recreation available to residents in the Tri-State area.

Area Kids Follow "Tuggie"

Tuggie ("Just call me Toogie") is almost too good to be true.

He's unbelievable, but believable; un real, but real.He's an early morning baby sitter like mother never dreamed possible, and he's free from 6:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Tuggie, in knee-socks and knickers, is fast becoming the Pied Piper of the bubble-gum set, and CARTOONS 'N CORNFLAKES is becoming No. 1 on the Hit Parade of kids and adults alike.

Take the letter—and he's already getting bushel baskets full daily—from one of his admirers:

> "Dear Mr. Tuggie:
> im like you show very much i watching you evry morning i'm five years old i go to St. Paul kindergarten but this week i has a muetms so can't go to school. i have big brather name Danny he go to Ridgecrest school and i have little brather name eddie he four years old i'm going to give you my telephon no. ——"

And Tuggie thinks his letter writers and viewers are the greatest. With ingenuous wit he breaks his viewers up with quips like "Lay some correspondence on me, baby—and send letters, too!"

Tuggie's a neighborhood pal; he has a rare talent for stepping into the Never-Never-Land between two generations, to the delight of kids and grownups alike.

He entertains with cartoons such as, "The Big World of Little Adam," "Lippy the Lion," "Touche Turtle," "Wally Gator" and "Bozo the Clown." He works in special comedy segments of "Laurel and Hardy" and "Our Gang." And to round out the morning's 180 minutes, he brings in "Dennis the Menace" and "Comedy Capers."

These are great, but the greatest comes when Tuggie calls at least two children each morning from a real phone booth on the early-Thirties set in KVII-TV's studios and talks with the youngsters on the air.

The kids dig him, and he digs them. One five-year-old put it this way:

> "Tuggie
> I like Frankie and are Gang. And I like your little sports car. You are my favorite cartoon show. Since I don't go to school yet and little kids like me like to go to bed and slept all morning till 1:00 or so. But not me I like to get up at 7:00 to watch your show. Bye. See you on TV soon."

Tuggie provides practical information for the grownups, too. He talks casually to the kids about school menus, the day's weather, birthdays and other items of interest to children and adults alike.

CARTOONS 'N CORNFLAKES with Tuggie is just the right combination of ingredients mixed to perfection for early morning viewing.

TV Matinee Big Hit

The housewife has found a champion in KVII-TV.

"Well, it's about time someone thought of us," one woman told Channel 7's general manager, John Tyler.

"We've filled the gap between chores-end and supper's start with top quality movies," Tyler said.

KVII-TV's afternoon movie runs from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m.

"These are some of the finest to be filmed by Hollywood, and many have become classics around the world," Tyler observed.

Viewers have already been treated to showings of "The Quiet Man," "Mr. Roberts," "Battle Cry," "House of Wax," and "The Old Man and the Sea."

The complimentary phone calls from housewives to the station have convinced Tyler that the decision to show these and other fine movies was a correct one.

"We've made arrangements with a special booking agency to obtain prime features for showing on KVII-TV," he said.

Some of those planned include "No Time for Sergeants," "My Sister Eileen," "The Magnificent 7," "Along the Great Divide," "Marjorie Morningstar," and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter."

Tyler added that most of the afternoon movies are in color.
